IU Sports Medicine Staff Member Named Athletic Trainer of the Year

Indianapolis (August 2, 2006) — Joseph Lueken was named the Indiana Athletic Trainer of the Year for the college/university setting at the Indiana Athletic Trainers Association (IATA) Awards Banquet on July 14, 2006. Joe is currently an assistant athletic trainer at Indiana University. He received this award in light of his desire to advance the profession of athletic training and sports medicine. The athletic trainer who nominated Joe for this award stated, “Joe is tremendously loved by his students and co-workers, but especially by his athletes. He genuinely touches the lives of each person that he meets.”

About the IATA- The Indiana Athletic Trainers Association was founded in 1984 and currently has over 1,000 members. The IATA is committed to providing quality healthcare for Hoosiers and strives to advance the profession of athletic training. Practicing in a variety of settings from hospitals and clinics to universities and professional sports, IATA members work with Hoosiers age 1-100.
